MARUI GROUP Reports Receive Gold and Silver Awards in LACP's 2018 Vision Awards Annual Report Competition for Second Consecutive Year

MARUI GROUP announces that its VISION BOOK 2050 (English-language edition) won a Gold award and four other awards and its Co-Creation Management Report 2018 (English-language edition) won a Silver award and three other awards in the 2018 Vision Awards Annual Report Competition, one of the United States' two major report competitions.

■ About the Vision Awards

The Vision Awards are an award program organized by League of American Communications Professionals LLC (LACP) of the United States, which was established with the aim of encouraging improvements in the communication activities of companies, NPOs, academic organizations, government institutions, and other types of organizations. This program is one of the world's largest integrated corporate communication tool competitions, receiving entries from around 1,000 companies and other organizations from more than 20 countries worldwide. Reports submitted to this program are judged based on criteria including "Letter to Shareholders," "Message Clarity," and "Creativity."

< VISION BOOK 2050 >

VISION BOOK 2050 provides explanations on MARUI GROUP's 2050 Vision and the initiatives in three businesses founded on co-creation and in sustainability governance for accomplishing this vision. This report also includes a roadmap for MARUI GROUP's quest to help build a flourishing and inclusive society that offers happiness to all.

MARUI GROUP's 2050 Vision was forged over a roughly yearlong process of ongoing discussion among employees, executive officers, and specialists. VISION BOOK 2050 provides a look at the process of formulating this vision, which spans the proposal of visions by members of the Groupwide Sustainability Project Team assembled in December 2017, discussions with specialists and the children that will be the ones shaping the world 30 years from now, finalization at an intensive vision conference attended by all executive officers, and the announcement of the vision at the co-creation sustainability explanatory forum held in December 2018.

< Co-Creation Management Report 2018 >

MARUI GROUP has been publishing its co-creation management reports, a series of integrated reports, since 2015. The first three-year cycle of integrated reports ended with 2017. Co-Creation Management Report 2018, our fourth such report, represents the start of a new cycle. This report was created through an ongoing process of discussion between President Hiroshi Aoi and the report project team to determine the information that should be communicated to stakeholders. This process led to the decision to focus the report on MARUI GROUP's core value.

This report therefore takes a multifaceted approach toward answering the question of how the core value that has guided us since our founding relates to MARUI GROUP's business today and to its business in the future.
